INFORMATION:

Absolute Stone slabs (available in 5 modular shapes: 30x30, 30x60, 60x60, 30x90 and 60x90) have a ground edge to offer the potential for designing a wide variety of tiling layouts.

The Palladiana line was inspired by the magnificent 16th century villas in the Veneto area, recreating the look of natural cobblestones by simply flanking the shards alongside one another. Each shard is tumbled first to make it feel slightly bevelled and giving it a soft touch.

With Pavé, the natural look is combined perfectly with its ease of application: the product comes pre-assembled on a mesh backing, making it more cost-effective and lighter in weight than genuine pebbles or porphyry cubes.

All the collection shares the same durability and is non-absorbent, with no need for maintenance or surface treatment. Porcelain stoneware is slip-proof and frost-resistant, making it a perfect choice for walkways or for paths out of doors.

Absolute Stone is the latest material designed for large spaces.

ABSOLUTE STONE

Garfloor is a trademark of the Gardenia Orchidea Group and is dedicated exclusively to our top of the line quality porcelain tiles.

Among the collections of floor tiles offered by Garfloor, Absolute Stone is certainly the one which best expresses the company's strategy: a focus on design and innovative productive methods.

In Absolute Stone, the material has been studied minutely so as to achieve the most natural-looking tiles possible using industrial production methods.

By using the innovative Twin Press pressing technology, the surface of Absolute Stone is not only pleasantly rough but is also uneven so that each tile is slightly different from the others.

The look and texture of natural stone are reproduced with unprecedented fidelity, achieved by applying cutting-edge industrial techniques.

The core of the collection is flanked by Pavé'8e and Palladiana: two lines inspired by classic flooring, a favourite solution for large spaces and areas open to the public and designed specifically for use out of doors.

The high skid resistance (R10 B - bare feet) increases the versatility and potential range of applications of the entire range, making Absolute Stone a perfect choice not just for use in the home but also for more specific applications, such as shopping areas or outdoor flooring.
