INFORMATIONS:

I COTTI: THE VALUE OF DIFFERENCES

The range of warm natural shades of the I Cotti series is the outcome of meticulous selection of colouring pigments, mixed straight into the tile body. Each tile is therefore a unique piece which harmonises attractively into the overall composition, but gives the floor an attractively irregular look.

The three surface finishes - natural, semi-polished and grip - cover all home design requirements, meeting the needs of every interpretation

- Natural

Unusual tactile sensations and an opaque appearance; this is the finished product, which retains all the characteristics of porcelain stoneware but has not been treated after firing.

- Semi-polished

The floor covering is polished and glossy; each piece undergoes a final waxed-effect polishing process which gives a finishing very similar to a natural waxed terracotta.

- Grip

The product is intended for outdoor use and in wet environments; safe and resistant, it has a textured surface and R10 slip resistance.

A product which combines beauty with convenience, as well as the highest safety standards.

For the creation of truly customised solutions, I Cotti features a large number of trims and large-size tiles which can also be used on walls for an unusual continuity effect.
