PRESS RELEASE

Gardenia Orchidea Group introduces Palace Stone. The new Versace Home ceramic collection.

Palace Stone is an eclectic collection which combines the sophisticated, striking style of the Versace Home brand with the exceptional technological characteristics of through-coloured fine porcelain stoneware.

Palace Stone materials are designed to respond in full to the architect's many and varied needs, providing coverings of functional agility for the walls and floors of the home, indoors and outdoors.

The Palace Stone materials can be used in any architectural context, creating strong stylistic links between rooms. From the bathroom to the kitchen, from the living area to the bedrooms, from the lounge to the garden, used on both floors and walls. The material's top-grade technical features allow its use even in contexts where high levels of resistance are required.

The Palace Stone collection comprises two variants with different surface finishes.

- Natural: a strongly textured surface resembling the rough structure of natural stone. This finish offers a high degree of slip resistance (R 10), making it particularly suitable for use even outdoors.
- Crest Honed: in this sophisticated finishing process, each tile is polished so lightly that the abrasive wheels only touch the tip of the surface structure, leaving the rest unchanged. The glints of light reflected from the small polished areas create an attractively delicate, elegant visual effect.

They are the outcome of three years of painstaking research: from the selection of the raw materials to pressing, from firing to the final edge-grinding of the slab and a lengthy series of tests, Palace Stone tiles are created with an exclusive Gardenia Group technology.

The effect of delicate shade variations, especially developed for this collection, is still unique in ceramic tiles: it is achieved by combining tile body colouring, using a choice blend of raw materials, with finishing by means of the Hi-Res Print process which provides photographic resolution, currently the most accurate, sophisticated method of re-creating the distinctive effects of natural stone.

Palace Porcelain Stoneware is unadulterated matter, with characteristics that remain the same right through its thickness; hard-wearing, strong and supplied in modular rectified slabs.

Every single piece is processed by skilled craftsmen using equipment developed through the experience of the Gardenia Orchidea Group. The Palace slabs owe their beauty to exclusive finishing procedures, such as the application of costly decorative materials, inlays and mosaics, or the processes which recreate the beauty and detail of a bas-relief.

With Palace Stone, even the back of the tile lives up to the unmistakable Versace Home style.

On the rear of all the pieces in this new collection, you will find the Versace logo engraved directly on the ceramic body. One striking technique is to combine the porcelain with rods of polished aluminium, also available with bronze or brass finish. Mosaics are mesh-mounted, ensuring uniformity and precision and simplifying the laying of materials.

Thanks to Palace Stone, you will be able to dress your house in Versace Home wherever you wish: a fascinating dialogue between the most private rooms and the outdoor areas, with a striking continuum of decoration.
